FOREWORD

Soon the class of 1968 will be leaving the school. We look with eager anticipation toward tomorrow, when we can truly begin to exercise the qualities of leadership developed by our training at Forbes. Through the 1968 Forbian, we hope to record some of the memories of this our most important year. We hope this yearbook provides you with a key to the people and events which provided these memories.

We Dedicate

Standing: Miss Rachael Mostoller, Miss Evelyn Pyle
Sitting: Mrs. Grace Spangler, Mrs. Sallie Werner

Our Honored Teachers

The 1968 Forbian is dedicated to Miss Rachael Mostoller, Miss Evelyn Pyle, Mrs. Grace Spangler, and Mrs. Sallie Werner in grateful recognition of their many years of loyal service to their students. Together they have compiled a total of 150 years in the classroom.

Teaching in the elementary schools requires more than just a knowledge of the subjects in the curriculum. Young pupils need special assistance and understanding during the early years of their formal education. These school-mistresses have displayed all the poise, patience, and understanding required for these demanding positions.

As these fine educators withdraw from active service in our schools, we extend our wishes for continued success and happiness.

Commitment

Elected to their position by public vote, these people give unselfishly of their time and efforts in planning and supervising the ways and means by which the youth of our area have all the opportunities available for a higher education. Well deserved praises are due these Board Members and we the Class of 1968 wish to recognize them for their services of dedication to our community.

To Progress

ADMINISTRATION

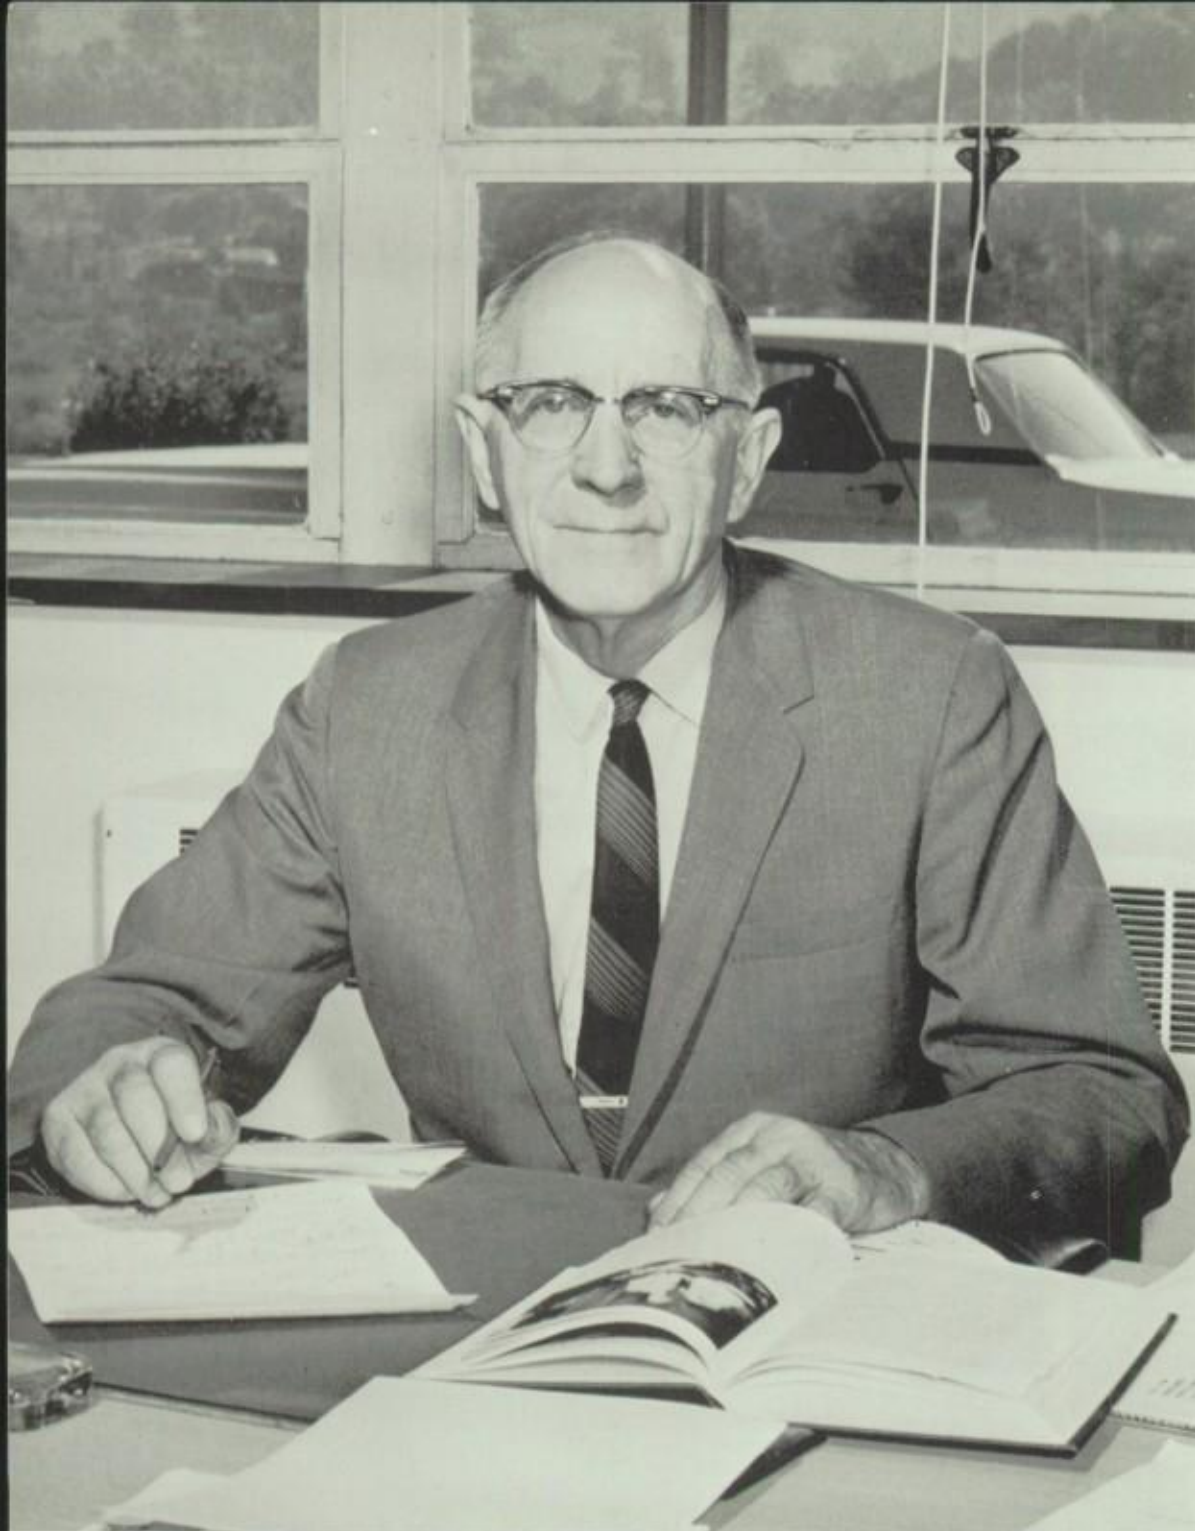

L-R Mrs. Stahl, Mrs. Troll, Mr. Dickey,
Mr. Barnhart, Mr. Zimmerman.

Guidance for the future—creating interest to learn—serving with efficiency—providing opportunity for thought—expanding our knowledge—molding character. These are the providers of leadership, scholarship, and inspiration, who guide educational destinies.

Mr. David E. Lichliter, our supervising principal is a graduate of American University and George Washington University. Proficient management in combining courses of study and extra-curricular activities is credited to Mr. Lichliter. Before joining our faculty he served as instructor in the Elk Lick Township School District and in the Boswell School District.

Miss Nellie Sank, our high school principal, is a graduate of Indiana State College and the University of Pittsburgh. A person of high ideals and moral standards, she has transmitted to and expected from the student body these same qualities. Miss Sank is indeed a guiding light and pillar of strength. Her entire teaching career has been dedicated to the Forbes School District.

Dedication, Our Faculty Watchword

MR. D. LARRY BARNHART—Mr. Barnhart is our safety education instructor and also teaches 11th grade health. He is an advisor to the safety patrol, Senior High Student Council, parking crew, and the 11th grade. In his spare time, he enjoys working with his clock collection.
"Success is a result, not a goal."

MR. WALLACE BERKEBILE—Mr. Berkebile is our geography, civics, and Pennsylvania History instructor. He advises the 9th grade and the Junior High Student Council. His other interests include hunting, reading, and attending sports events.
"Care and diligence bring luck."

MR. ELLSWORTH BLACK—Mr. Black teaches 7th grade world history and 8th and 11th grade American History. He also advises the Junior High Student Council and the 9th grade. His hobbies are hunting, fishing, reading, and sports.
"No opportunity is as romantic as the one that was lost."

MRS. EVELYN BITTNER—Mrs. Bittner has been substituting at Forbes in many subjects in the past few years. This year she taught typing, shorthand, and notehand. She also served as an advisor to the 11th grade and the National Honor Society. Her hobby is music.
"Patience is the companion of wisdom."

Teachers Freely Give Their Time

MR. WILLIAM BOYD—Mr. Boyd is the special education instructor in the high school. He is the head of the Sportsmen's Club and assistant football coach. During his free time, he enjoys sports of all types.

"Nothing in life is to be feared, it needs only to be understood."

MRS. PAULINE DAVIS—Mrs. Davis teaches vocal music to both the elementary and high school students. Her efforts with small groups are exhibited by the Top Twenty, Forbette groups, and the Jetaires, which she advises. She likes playing the organ and swimming.

"The richest child is poor without music."

MR. JACK DICKEY—Mr. Dickey teaches 7th, 8th, and 9th grade science, 10th grade biology and 12th grade physics. He is an advisor to the 8th grade. Basketball, baseball, football, golf, coin collecting, and hunting are his hobbies.

"Skill and confidence are an unconquered army."

MISS JOSEPHINE S. ELLIOTT—Miss Elliott teaches typing, shorthand, and notehand. She is an advisor to the Forbion, the National Honor Society, and the 11th grade. Reading and needlepoint are her avocations.

"Goodness outshines genius."

Storehouses of Knowledge

MRS. NINA HORNE—Mrs. Horne is the instructor in art for grades 1 to 12. The Art Club, which she advises, helps to brighten up the halls with various art projects. She enjoys sewing, knitting, traveling, and church work in her leisure hours.

"Content is more than a kingdom."

MR. CHARLES LAWSON—Mr. Lawson teaches world culture, economics, and problems of democracy. He advises the Senior High Student Council and the sophomore class. His hobbies are reading, travel, photography, and politics.

"Wisdom comes to no one by chance."

MRS. ESTELLA LEAF—Mrs. Leaf teaches 9th grade English besides being our school librarian. She helps the students in the library club learn about how the library works. Her hobbies are music, reading, and knitting.

"A good example is the best sermon."

MR. DAVID MAIZE—Mr. Maize handles the boys physical education classes and also teaches health. He also advises the Varsity Club, which is made up of the lettermen in the school sports. He enjoys all sports, coin collecting, hunting, and fishing.

"When the going gets tough ... the tough get going."

Education is Offered

MRS. JANE METZGAR—Mrs. Metzgar, our school nurse, is one of the busiest people in the school. She must make sure everyone is feeling fine and ready for studying. She advises the Future Nurses Club. Her hobbies include swimming, golfing, and reading.

"Do unto others as you would have them do unto you."

MR. STANLEY MISH—Mr. Mish teaches general music in grades 1 to 6 and instrumental music to both the elementary and high school students. He directs the senior and junior bands, the swing band, and advises the Swingers From Seville. Working around his home is his hobby.

"Quality not quantity."

MISS JANICE OJA—Miss Oja is our home economics instructor. She serves as advisor to the Future Homemakers of America. For amusement, she likes sewing, knitting, skiing, sailing, and traveling.

"If at first you don't succeed, try, try, again."

MR. ALPHONSE PAGE—Mr. Page teaches business math and bookkeeping. He is a senior class advisor, faculty manager for basketball, and business manager for the Forbian. His avocations are sports and listening to music.

"Learn to love learning."

Learning, a Continuous Effort

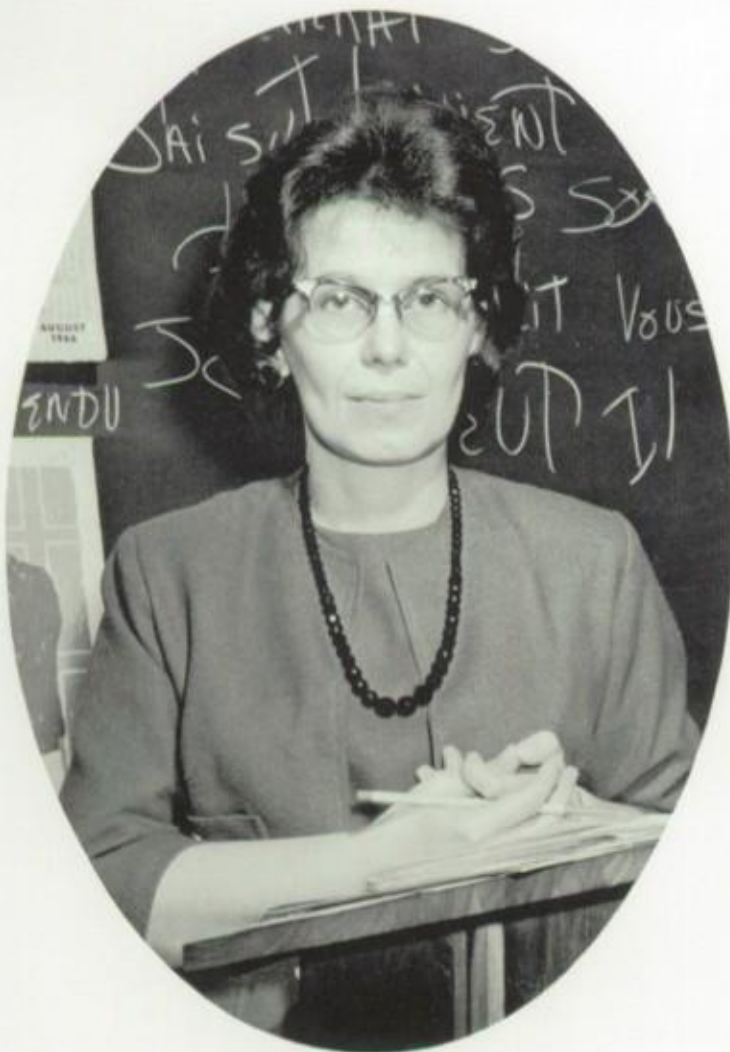

MR. LARRY REAM—Mr. Ream is teaching biology, chemistry, and physical science during his first year at Forbes. He directs the activities of the stage crew, the pep club, and the senior class. During his leisure hours he enjoys skiing, painting, and reading.

"The aim of life is to spend it for something that will outlast it."

MISS PHEOBE REIGHARD—Miss Reighard is our girls' physical education and health instructor. She is the advisor to the cheerleaders and both the girls' basketball and volleyball teams. Her hobbies are basketball, football, tennis, and reading.

"To thine own self be true."

MRS. BETTY SHANNON—Mrs. Shannon teaches Spanish, French, and 10th grade English. She advises the 9th grade and is in charge of the Spanish Club and a group studying great books. During her free time she enjoys books, music, and cooking.

"Friendship is the bond of reason."

MRS. PENELOPE STAHL—Mrs. Stahl is our 7th and 8th grade English teacher. She is also advisor to the radio club and the seventh grade. Her hobby is reading, but she also enjoys studying folklore of regions.

"Do more than exist, live."

They Encourage and Guide

MR. RAYMOND TOMASZEWSKI—Mr. Tomaszewski is our guidance counselor. He helps keep things running smoothly at Forbes. The Future Teachers of America are his responsibility. Hunting, fishing, and raising dogs are a few of his hobbies.

"Everything happens to everybody sooner or later, if there is time enough."

MRS. FRANCES TRENT—Mrs. Trent is our Senior High English teacher. She also advises the 10th grade, the ushers club, and directs the Senior Class Play. She enjoys reading and traveling, especially to historical places.

"Example is always more efficacious than precept."

MRS. SALLY TROLL—Mrs. Troll teaches general math in grades 7 to 9 and also instructs the juniors and seniors in modern math. She is a seventh grade advisor and also heads the chess club. She lists her hobbies as "My Three Sons."

"Every cloud has a silver lining."

MR. JOHN WINTERS—Mr. Winters is our industrial arts instructor. His skill as a painter is displayed throughout the school by the many fine paintings he has given to beautify the halls. His hobbies are fishing, cooking, eating, and hunting ginseng.

"Memory is the mother of all wisdom."

Devoted to Education

MRS. DOROTHY WISE—Mrs. Wise has classes in 7th, 8th, and 9th grade reading and 9th grade English. She holds a class on great books and advises the 8th grade. She is active in church activities and likes art and playing the piano.

"Do not delay; the golden moments fly."

MR. THOMAS ZIMMERMAN—Mr. Zimmerman conducts classes in plane geometry, algebra, and general math. He is an advisor to the 11th grade and the audio-visual club. His hobbies are hunting and camping.

"The best is good enough."

New Positions at Forbes

MISS CAROL HIGHBERGER—Miss Highberger completed her student teaching during the second semester of school this year. She assisted Mrs. Shannon with her work while learning the daily routine of a Spanish teacher.

MISS BETTY BAKER—Miss Baker completed her student teaching during the first semester of school this year. She assisted Mrs. Shannon with her work while learning the daily routine of a Spanish teacher. She was the first student teacher at Forbes

"Character is measured by conduct."

MR. DAVID LONG—Mr. Long is a new teacher holding a new position at Forbes this year. He teaches physical education to the elementary students at Kantner and Hooversville. This is Mr. Long's first year of teaching and the first year Forbes has had a physical education program for the grade school students.

Mr. Long graduated from Shanksville Stoneycreek High School where he was an outstanding athlete. He then attended Slippery Rock State College where he first majored in math. He soon realized, however, that his true interest was in physical education. He feels that through physical education a teacher can give the students much more than they receive in the other subjects. The students learn not only how to build their bodies but also to cooperate, to share, and to participate in a team effort.

He enjoys all sports and will serve as head basketball coach this season.

"Anything worth having is worth working for."

Demanding Job

Mrs. Dorothy Piell, Mrs. Mary Moore

The secretaries are an integral part of the mechanics which aid our school in functioning smoothly. They work with the faculty and administration to prepare the many familiar "little pieces of paper" that are so well known to all of us. They also perform other services that help us daily.

In addition to the regular secretaries at Forbes, Title I librarians have been provided to assist at the elementary schools. Rendering their services at the high school are the Teacher's Aides that do just as the title implies. They aid teachers in doing the things that they cannot find time to do themselves.

Reliable and Hardworking

A group of faithful workers are our custodians at Forbes. Many times their efforts go completely unnoticed, but, if something goes wrong, they are the people who are called on to come to the rescue. We want to commend them for their splendid services to our school.

Mrs. Irene Berkebile, Mr. Thomas Strelko

Mr. Thomas McDowell, Mr. Charles Sanders

Valuable Assets

Jacob Barron, Charles Mostoller, Larry Barnhart, Teacher

The Road Supervisors aid the school in many ways, one of which is enclosing the football field with snow fence during football season.

The band parents promote the annual candy and sub sales. These sales help to provide the junior band members their long-awaited band jackets.

The P.T.A. promotes better understanding between parents and teachers. They also provide for many of our senior awards.

The Seniors have but a short time left in what will soon be their Alma Mater. Many friendships are only now becoming binding. Soon we must leave to find newer, more challenging horizons, to make new friends who we hope will be as enduring as those we've made here. We have engaged in many activities; each one has left a fond memory over which each of us shall reminisce. This book is only one portion of what we've done and what we hope to share with you. We shall cherish it as a remembrance of our wonderful years at Forbes.

The Senior Class presented "The Perfect Idiot" on November 16, 1967. The plot was unusual, the lines were clever and there was never a dull moment. The play was staged under the direction of Mrs. Frances Trent. The cast enjoyed their rolls immensely and the audience loved the fast pace and good humor of the play. The laughs were frequent and sometimes uproarious and we were very pleased to see the audience still chuckling as they left at the end.

A Perfect Evening

The pause that refreshes.

The Junior Prom of the Class of 1968 was held on Friday, May 19, 1967, in the Tuscany Room at Green Gables. Many couples danced in the "Misty Moonlight" to the music of Jack Merlin and Orchestra. Decorations were few, but moons, stars and clouds were used to add to the mystifying atmosphere of the night. A fond memory of beauty and sentiment of this wonderful evening will always be treasured by those who attended.

UNDERCLASS

Throughout the six short years we've spent here at Forbes we have received much advice. Now we have taken it upon ourselves to give some advice. To you, the underclassmen, we would like to say . . . Set a goal; for without a goal, life is nothing. Strive to reach that goal because when the top is reached, the rest of your life may be spent there. Make a good use of every moment, every hour, every day. Time goes so rapidly that before one realizes it, commencement day is here. So don't waste one golden moment here at Forbes. It is now our fondest wish that you follow this advice.

Almost There

You are now in the midst of your final stages at Forbes High School. Aim high to achieve the ultimate goal—success. With this objective in mind, eagerly reach for and firmly grasp all knowledge possible. We, the Senior Class, are certain that you will complete this final stage with deep satisfaction and feeling of pride of which you all shall be worthy.

ACTIVITIES

Paige Mong, Christine Tataliba.

Our school provides many extra activities for student participation. They exist to help each student pursue his individual interest, and to help him develop the art of getting along with other people. These activities supplement the understanding gained in the classroom, mold versatile personalities, teach new skills and provide a means of applying newly-gained knowledge.

The Senior High Student Council is the organization that acts as the intermediary between the authority of the administration and the actions of the students. Encouraged by their advisors, Mr. Charles Lawson and Mr. Larry Barnhart, the student council has ample opportunity to learn and practice civil authority and responsibility.

Through the student council, the students have the opportunity to voice their opinions. This illustrates the development of leadership and citizenship that characterizes Forbes.

Learning the Procedure

The Junior High Student Council is a very important organization in the school. The representatives are elected by the students themselves. Although they lack governing experience, they exhibit abundant vigor in all their activities. Under the direction of Mr. Wallace Berkebile and Mr. Ellsworth Black, this council sponsors many school activities. By the time these students reach high school, they will be prepared to accept the responsibilities of the Senior High Student Council.

The Yearbook Staff

Throughout the year, the yearbook staff takes pictures, gathers information, types, proofreads—in short, creates the 1968 Forbian.

The various staffs include the business staff, which solicits patrons; the subscription staff, which takes the orders for the Forbian; the photography staff, which assists the photographer; the senior and underclass editors, who collect information about each student in the school; the sports, music, and activities editors, who take care of the many activities in which the students participate; the typing staff, which does all the clerical work for the yearbook and the editor, assistant editor and junior editor who manage the production of the yearbook. Most important, however, are our advisors who direct and make possible our Forbian.

Four words signify the qualities that symbolize the National Honor Society — Scholarship, Leadership, Character, and Service. It is not easy to attain all four qualities. To be elected to the Society is an honor and also a responsibility, for it is the select group of students who set superior examples for the student body. Members are selected from the Junior and Senior Classes. This organization takes an active part in all school activities and is under the guidance of Miss Josephine Elliot.

Area students possessing high scientific and mathematical ability are eligible to attend the Somerset County Science Seminar. These students meet in bi-weekly sessions for field trips to places of interest and to hear lectures by doctors and college professors. Representing Forbes are David Moore and Cliff Shannon.

Preparing for the Future

The Future Homemakers of America is an organization designed to prepare girls to be proficient in the home as well as in the community. Each January our girls participate in the Farm Show at Harrisburg where they have given prize-winning demonstrations on various phases of homelife. Miss Oja advises both Senior and Junior clubs.

Students at Forbes who look to teaching as a career are given the opportunity to join the Future Teachers of America. To enlighten the many phases of teaching the F.T.A. sets aside one day for students where each member may teach a class of his choice. The advisor to the Forbes Chapter is Mr. Tomaszewski.

The girls who greet you when you come to Forbes to see a basketball game or a particular program, all belong to our Ushers Club. The club was started last year by Mrs. Frances Trent who is the advisor. Linda Walker heads this club which does a fine job of welcoming the many visitors to Forbes.

The Forbes Radio Club presents the communication aspect of our school. The monthly broadcast over Somerset Radio Station involves many hours of work and preparation. Encouraged by Mrs. Penelope Stahl, their ability through voice quality, reading ability and various other phases.

The purpose of these programs is to provide for high school students the opportunity of working with this important communication medium.

Under the guidance of Mrs. Estella Leaf, our school librarian, this group of enthusiastic and hard-working girls, assists with the various duties of the library. In doing so, these girls learn much about the library and the way it functions through their own experience. Jobs such as checking books in and out, processing new ones, and finding needed information help to make access to our school library quicker and easier.

Enjoying a Hobby

In this club you do not need to have a Spanish course to qualify. Mrs. Betty Shannon, the advisor, heads this newly formed organization. To help Mrs. Shannon, Miss Betty Baker fills the seat of Co-Advisor. By preparing projects and putting them on display, the class adds a lot to the special activities at Forbes.

Standing: C. Tataliba, G. Diehl, S. Snyder, M. A. Zoldey, W. Zimmerman, L. Lohr, K. Joswick, A. Lebda, M. Rininger. Sitting: K. Ringler, P. Mong, A. Miller, J. Boyer, D. Kennell V. Ott, L. Marts, R. Zimmerman, J. Zufall.

The Chess Club at Forbes is starting its third year as an organization. The members of this junior high club have picked Tom Miller, Dick Custer, Dave Bock, and John Weir to lead them as their officers.

Standing: D. Bock, C. Boyer, R. Hamer, L. Holsopple, A. Whitney, G. Miller, J. Huzsek, P. Moore, J. Shaffer. Sitting: R. Veres, G. Plovish, W. Lohr, E. Sheets, J. Weir, J. Deaner.

Added to this years list of extracurricular activities is the Great Books Club. Encouraged by Mrs. Betty Shannon, these students learn the value of great books. This group is divided into a Senior and Junior High group. Members of this club are assigned books to read, then they are given an opportunity to tell the other members about the book they have completed in the form of an oral book review. This club gives the students at Forbes a chance to appreciate the real value of the great books of the past and of the present.

Serving Our School

The Stage Crew is perhaps one of the most taken-for-granted clubs in the school. It works diligently to have our gym ready for all assemblies. The expert handling of the lights and curtain make the programs much more interesting. To the stage crew and their advisor, Mr. Ream, we say "thank you."

L-R R. Miller, D. Boyer, J. Wirbick, P. Meyers, J. Hause, T. Fyock, K. Armagost, L. Rosenbaum, J. Miller.

During the school year, the Audio-Visual Club has helped everyone by showing filmstrips and movies for teachers. They and their advisor, Mr. Zimmerman, perform a valuable service for us and help make our school life more interesting.

L-R J. Toth, R. Schreffler, W. Weaver, M. Berkebille, B. Brown, J. Zimmerman, R. Whisker, T. Waltos, L. Rosenbaum, K. Armagost, A. Mostoller, S. Lebda, W. Fleegle, H. Hanes, K. Gerhardt, K. Popernack.

The Parking Crew has a very tiring and cold job. The members must brave all kinds of weather to help park cars for basketball games and other evening school affairs. The members and Mr. Barnhart, their advisor, work hard to make our parking easier.

Using Their Abilities

The Varsity Club is now in its second year at Forbes. The purpose of this club is to stimulate all phases of school athletics in the district with special emphasis on promoting school spirit and good sportsmanship. The members are athletes with at least one letter in a major sport.

Standing J. Zimmerman, E. Steckman, S. Lohr, J. Kalaha, C. Kimmel, R. Shaffer, J. Weir, D. Pyle, S. Lebda, D. Croyle. Sitting T. Pringle, R. Stetler, A. Mostoller, D. Phillippi.

The Art Club, under the direction of Mrs. Horne, has shown its value throughout the years in countless ways. They keep the halls decorated with colorful designs through the many projects they undertake. With their artistic ability they help to promote a lively atmosphere of school spirit. In addition it helps the student to express himself in a creative manner.

Row 4 J. Henry, M. L. Malnar, R. Zimmerman, T. Zolla, L. Bender, J. Wain. Row 3 D. Matse, D. Rhoades, D. Berkebille, R. Yoder, M. Shaffer, D. Ashbrook, D. Hagans. Row 2. G. Ohler, D. Read, K. One club in our school that has been unrecognized for many years is the Safety Patrol. These boys deserve much credit for the many safety precautions they enforce throughout the school year. This group under the supervision of Mr. Barnhart, meets every two weeks. At this meeting many visual-aids are used to illustrate the need for safety on the bus, in school and within the community. Through the cooperation of the student body along with this organization our school has been made a safer place to learn.

MUSIC

Standing: Tim Zimmerman, Dave Moore.
Seated: Kathy Ringler, Vicky Ott, Cliff Shannon.

The music department is very busy throughout the school year plus occasional performances in the summer. The two main events that this department handles are the Christmas and Spring Programs.

Not only do the larger groups perform but the smaller groups contribute their time also.

Mrs. Davis and Mr. Mish have done a great deal for our school in music. We wish to extend our appreciation to both of them.

Adding Entertainment

Twenty of the most outstanding singers in the Senior Mixed Chorus blend together their voices in rich harmony. This singing group has brought many enjoyable sounds to many ears from varied places. They sing plenty of songs, from party numbers to special music at church services. The members of this group anticipate all the programs because of the enjoyment of singing and performing.

SPORTS

This year, Forbes' athletic teams have been ones to be proud of. They have not been big, but the hustle and the desire to win have compensated for the lack of size. The coaches have combined the experience of the seniors with the spirit and determination of juniors and sophomores to form fine, hustling teams that compete well wherever they go.

The junior high basketball team this year has shown much promise for next year's junior varsity team. Under the direction of Mr. Boyd, they have played excellent basketball and have won regularly. Many times they completely overpowered their opponents, winning by large margins. In the next few years, Forbes' basketball teams will improve because of this year's junior high team.

Every girl enrolled in the secondary schools should have the opportunity to receive instruction and to participate in a varied sports program. Therefore, once again, the feminine forces at Forbes have started their sixth season of girls' basketball. Under the careful instruction of their coach, Miss Reighard, the girls work hard and get much enjoyment from their encounters with other teams from Somerset and Cambria Counties. In the previous years this team has had many winning seasons. This year is no exception. The girls with the right attitude and determination along with large amounts of practice, will again make this season a successful one.
